Success could be defined as the measure of happiness or fulfillment one person feels after achieving his or her goals. Success does not have a definite formula or mantra which applies to everyone around the world. The meaning of success changes from one person to another. Never chase success as it will only lead a person to be unhappy in life. Success requires constant hard work and determination which many people are not ready to put in. To be successful in life one needs to set a goal and work towards it with determination. Success is a direct product of the hard work you put into accomplishing your goal.
