Workshop on “Recent Research using Labview”

Title of the event : Recent Research using Labview

Date of the event : 05.11.2022

Venue of the event : Sir C V Raman Auditorium

About the event :

Embark on an exploration of cutting-edge research at the "Recent Research using LabVIEW" event, scheduled for November 5, 2022, at the esteemed Sir C V Raman Auditorium. This event is designed to showcase the latest advancements and innovations in research leveraging LabVIEW, a powerful system design platform.

Our distinguished guest speaker, Mr. Jaffer Sathic Jamal, a Senior Test Automation Engineer at Dynamic Manufacturing Inc. in the United States, will share invaluable insights into the application of LabVIEW in the realm of research. With a wealth of experience, Mr. Jamal is set to unravel the intricacies of LabVIEW and its role in driving advancements in various fields.

Guest Speaker Details : Mr Jaffer Sathic Jamal
Senior Test Automation Engineer,
Dynamic Manufacturing Inc, United States

Participants Details : 81 Participants

Organized by : Department of ECE & Institution Innovation Cell

Overall Report of the Event :

The "Recent Research using LabVIEW" event on November 5, 2022, at Sir C V Raman Auditorium, was a triumph of knowledge and innovation. Guest speaker Mr. Jaffer Sathic Jamal, a Senior Test Automation Engineer, shared invaluable insights into LabVIEW's contemporary applications. Live demonstrations showcased LabVIEW's versatility, fostering engaging discussions. The event, a nexus for researchers and enthusiasts, celebrated the latest advancements in LabVIEW. As we conclude, gratitude is extended to Mr. Jamal, attendees, and sponsors, with the anticipation that the event's impact will inspire future breakthroughs in LabVIEW technology.
